2.54 Housing

Q8

Comment 1:

I appreciate that housing is needed but the infrastructure needs to be there as well especially roads. New estates are renowned for having narrow roads and not enough parking making it difficult for emergency vehicles and public transport to access the sites. For peoples wellbeing as well, as has been demonstrated over the last 2 years, better design and spacing can be beneficial to peoples well being

5.37 Housing

Q10

Comment 2:

With an ageing population, there needs to be more consideration of the housing stock being built. Not all old people want to live in a flat but the lack of bungalows which suit an older population is a national disgrace. People stay in unsuitable accommodation as there is no where to move to that has a garden and yet is suitable for less mobile people. This too could also have a benefit in keeping people active and involved in their community with obvious health benefits

Comment 3 Document Reference:

5.33 Rural housing

Q12

Comment 3:

There is a real need for affordable housing in rural areas to keep villages alive with young families. We have seen schools struggling to get enough pupils and housing costs must be the main reason for it. Anything to mitigate this must be a good thing in a rural part of the country
