There are already too many people under the current doctors surgery and can take no more patients. there are not enough surgeries in the area, getting appointments is russian roulette.

Already templars way and castle lane and school lane have queues of traffic every rush hour, adding an extra 1000 houses to the area with main access off the roundabout will make matters much worse. Can access be considered via the Main Road opposite Asda.

The state of the roads are already unstable with pot holes and flooding everywhere, again, adding an extra 1000 houses to the area with will make matters much worse.

Where is the rainwater to go? Flooding, as stated , is already a problem, building more houses here will just cause more issues to the bogged land.

Public transport is pretty rubbish here already, this will just encourage more cars to be used as no other option to get about. Especially out of the hours of 0900 and 1600.

New builds never have enough parking spaces for families - 1 car maybe but pushed if you have 2. This will lead to people parking in other roads that have no restriction making it hard for the residents that live there.
