I would like to express my deepest concerns about the proposed development of Velmore Farm for 1070 new houses and an employment site.

This plan will put heavy demand on already overstretched services in the area and the local roads which are frequently overwhelmed with the existing volume of traffic, throughout the day especially mornings and evenings.

The new development would mean up to 2000 more vehicles with significant congestion at peak times. The queues are already causing lengthy delays and increased pollution.

Local health services doctors and dentists are already at capacity and a 6 week wait for a doctor's appointment is quite normal and NHS dentists are full. The needs of a further 2000 patients will not be able to be met.

We already suffer significant flooding in and around the area immediately adjacent to the proposed building site, especially around School Land and the roundabout where it joins Templars Way. The land in the area is well known to be of heavy clay. More building will exacerbate these serious problems.

I have lived in the area for more than 25 years and have already seen the wildlife, especially woodland and garden bird population decrease substantially. This development would see us lose more countryside – meaning a loss of habitat, green space and biodiversity.

The proposal is also a breach of the Local Gap effectively linking up North Baddesley, Valley Park and Chilworth.

In short this proposal is highly unsuitable for an area which is already overpopulated and significantly under-resourced in terms of local services since the development of Knightwood.

Yours sincerely

Steven Miles
