I read that there is a proposal to add another 80 houses and yet another industrial estate to Nursling. I would like to object to this. It is already like living on an overcrowded industrial estate. The infrastructure cannot cope with what has already been added. The traffic here is awful, let alone adding another 80 houses and all the hgv traffic to the industrial estate. We've had thousands of new homes plus two huge industrial areas in the village very recently. We have one tiny shop. No gp. A non existent bus service. The area by the new homes and estate has hardly any pavement and no cycle lanes meaning the area will be flooded with cars for both. The local wildlife cannot sustain more destruction of open spaces. The area is already over populated. It's time other parts of test valley shared the burden.
