Dear TestValley

I wish to lodge my objections to the proposed planning application opposite Upton Crescent Crescent & the industrial park adjacent Upton Lane.

This is an absolutely stupid place to consider building an industrial site & over 85 homes.

This would protenely lead to over over 350 people that will need shops, schools, work places, doctors, places of recreation and of course 250 extra vehicle's from the housing estate and all the trucks and vans from the industrial site trying to join Romsey Road & Upton Lane.

With all the present traffic this would become an absolute nightmare. It is a nightmare getting out of Upton Crescent in the morning & evening.

Plus with all the heavy goods vehicles using Upton Lane this would be a disaster.

Someone said that this development would be a huge boost economy to the area, they must be on cloud cuckoo land It would be the worst thing ever.

You also have the pylons in the site what would happen to them.

Where are all the new residence going to find doctors, because Lordshill aren't taking an new patients, the schools are full not enough shops and certainty there will be no room for recreacion.

This opens the doors for more crime around the area. This development would be terrible to destroy all the wildlife in this area.

This development must not go ahead it is in the wrong place, there is not the infrastructure to be able to cope with this monstrosity.

Would you like it on your doorstep.
