Mind, Body, Soul & Skin

With over 30 years of experience in the beauty industry, Debbi McIntosh has dedicated her career to exploring the deeper connections between wellness, energy, and emotional healing.

After successfully running two resort spas in Canada, she returned to the UK to launch Aligned – a new venture offering holistic facials and treatments designed to balance the mind, body, soul, and skin.

As Debbi prepared to establish her business in Andover, she turned to the Test Valley Small Business Service for advice and direction.

Through one-to-one support and practical guidance, IncuHive helped her clarify her business goals, strengthen her launch plans, and connect with useful local resources.

The mentoring process gave her confidence and a clear path forward for bringing Aligned to life.

“Andy has provided valuable advice and shared useful links that have helped me get started with my new business.

With his guidance, I feel well-prepared to launch Aligned and begin offering my treatments to the local community. I'm looking forward to connecting with clients and building something meaningful in the area.”
